

NEBU mist

- is an isotonic sodium chloride solution in the form of a continuous, fine mist intended for moisturizing and hygiene of the mucous membranes of the upper airway area. The use of the product enables a completely silent, multi-position, application that does not require additional power sources. The product is delivered to the nose / mouth passage thanks to a new application system. The size of the evacuated particles contributes to a more regular, smooth distribution of the product in the upper airway area.

For over a dozen years we are producing a wide range of medical devices in liquids.

With the utmost care and full care for details, we control the entire product development cycle, up to the final production in accordance with the highest standards.

We are able to develop and produce medical devices focused on areas: nose, ear, mouth, throat or cosmetics focused on problematic skin or the intimate zone.

We will create a unique formula for you and help you register it in accordance with the latest MDR regulation, select the packaging, and if that is your choice, we will become the legal manufacturer.
