with you on the road to health

... They say water is the source of life and health. The source of the now large imaginary TEREZIA river began to spring forth thirty two years ago.

My philosophy of life was always: „If you want to achieve something, you must have a goal, go after it, and never give up.“ It was only when I became seriously ill that I realized that when your health leaves you, achieving your goals becomes very difficult. I became more interested in nutrition, which led me to medicinal mushrooms and plants, but I also wanted to help others. This resulted in the development and launch of the unique set of VEGI vegetable seasoning blends without sodium glutamate. As one of them contained the healthy oyster mushroom and had a positive effect on the health of customers, this was an impulse to create a separate food supplement containing the whole dried oyster mushroom.

Oyster mushroom in capsules were unique in 2004 because it was a completely new product in the form of a food supplement, and it opened a new segment of food supplements containing medicinal mushrooms and plants in the pharmacy market. The TEREZIA river flow created a completely new riverbed, opening the way for oyster mushroom growers and their competitors. The TEREZIA brand remained strong, traditional and Czech, and it gradually expanded its product portfolio with other healthy mushrooms, either on their own or in combination with herbs. Today we have over 60 products in our portfolio.

Our philosophy is to give people the maximum amount of effective natural substances in their most natural form, processed using the gentlest technology and without chemical additives. Thanks to our innovative approach, which we have kept from the beginning, all our products are the result of our own development and are produced in our own certified production facilities. Each batch of ingredients is thoroughly analyzed by independent laboratories, and the quality of our products is confirmed by other certificates from reputable institutions to ensure that TEREZIA is the right brand for the health of your entire family. Even after 34 years, TEREZIA did not abandon its philosophy, and it turns out that this was the right choice from the beginning. Today, TEREZIA is a strong brand that you can come across in the entire pharmacy network, especially in the Czech Republic and Slovakia. However, it is also successfully creating a new riverbed abroad. This success is mainly due to customers who have developed a trust in the TEREZIA brand and products.

High-quality ingredients always come first

High-quality ingredients are the basis of all products. Because we produce food supplements that are really intended to offer the human body something and help, it is logical that the raw material is the most important thing we care about. Each natural ingredient we use for our products comes from long-term proven suppliers, mostly from the EU. Each ingredient has its own country of origin where it occurs naturally and where it is of the highest quality. Our company is trying its best to get the ingredients from these places for you and to provide you with the highest possible quality. We are in regular contact with our suppliers, so they are not anonymous. We regularly verify whether our required standards are still at the highest possible level. In terms of mushrooms, many of them are cultivated directly for us. Thanks to our cooperation with university specialists, we use special strains with the highest content of active substances.

We have the ingredients for each batch of products tested in an independent, certified laboratory for the content of active substances, and we also perform a microbiology analysis and test them for heavy metals and other substances. Only then can they be transferred to production, where they are processed into a final food supplement under very strict hygiene conditions in our own certified production, which meets the strictest criteria. Our products are evaluated by an independent institution, the National Institute of Public Health in Prague, which issues a product safety certificate. The vast majority of manufacturers do not undergo this process, but we want to be sure that we aren't giving our customers anything that might be harmful to their health. Chemicals that are contained in certain dietary supplements have been shown to be harmful to human health. We therefore don't use any preservatives, added food colorings or chemical binders that only accelerate the production process. We prefer purity and quality.

We use whole mushrooms and not extracts

Each mushroom contains a unique complex of beneficial substances. During extraction, only one single substance (e.g. beta-glucan) is recovered from the mushroom and all the others are unnecessarily lost. That is why we always use whole mushrooms to preserve the natural harmonic combination of all health-promoting substances as nature has “blended” them, thus maintaining the synergistic effect. For example, our 100% dried oyster mushroom contains not only beta-glucan, but also lovastatin, mushroom fiber, vitamins B, D, C and K, and trace elements of copper, chromium, zinc, selenium, iodine and many other active substances. A distinguished professor and expert on medicinal mushrooms, Mr. Chang, said that a mushroom extract such as beta-glucan is a mere soloist, but the whole mushroom with all the active ingredients is a well-coordinated symphony orchestra.

DRYING

Beta-glucan, mushroom fiber, vitamins B, D, C and K, chitin, chitosan, lovastatin, protein and trace elements (copper, chromium, zinc, selenium, iodine).

Dried oyster mushrooms contain all the active substances in a quantity and proportion that is most suitable for the human body. This results in interaction and increases the effect (synergistic effect).

EXTRACTION

Beta-glucan

We can deliberately extract specific substances from mushrooms, but then we also get rid of other substances that they naturally contain.

„Extracts obtained from mushrooms are a mere soloist, while the whole mushroom is a well-coordinated symphony orchestra.“

S.T. Chang,
Professor of Biology

Quality products for the whole family

We use the power of medicinal mushrooms and plants proven over thousands of years, both on their own and in blends. The advantage of these combinations is the synergistic effect, i.e. the interaction of all active substances, resulting in a stronger effect.

Our portfolio contains products from the following categories:

Mushroom and plant food supplements

Food supplements for children

Medical devices

Cosmetics

Vitamins and minerals

Why choose our products?

- We develop and produce our own products with unique recipes (combination of herbs or herbs with mushrooms).
- Most of our products are purely natural or based on natural ingredients.
- You can use our products in the long term without discontinuation.
- Most of our supplements are gluten-free, and some are also suitable for vegetarians and vegans.
- We produce our products in our own certified production facilities.

Certificate of health safety from the National Institute of Public Health in Prague.

Our own certified production is a guarantee of quality

Our production facilities are under constant supervision of the Czech Agriculture and Food Inspection Authority, and they meet strict certification of HACCP (Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Points) and FSSC 22000 (International standard for food safety).

FSSC 22000

It includes a complete certification scheme for a food safety system based on food safety management in accordance with ISO 22000 and food safety requirements in the form of “food safety prerequisite programmes in food production”. It incorporates and supports HACCP principles. Obtaining this certificate is important for organizations that want to give their customers a guarantee that their products are manufactured with above-standard food safety requirements.

HACCP (Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Points)

HACCP is based on the knowledge of critical points, where there is the greatest possibility or likelihood of contamination of the food chain, whether microbiological, chemical or physical. These points become the most important control point, which is monitored and evaluated or controlled in such a way that possible contamination is eliminated (such as adherence to technological procedures, crossing of clean and unclean parts of operation, etc.).

IN ACCORDANCE WITH GMP

Thanks to our own certified production, we supervise the entire production process and we can ensure maximum cleanliness and quality of our products.

Mushroom and plant food supplements

In order for our body to function optimally, we need to give it a variety of substances every day. We should naturally get these from the food we eat, but our diet is often not varied enough. It is also important to pay attention to information about its quality, country of origin and manufacturer. We can also give our body the substances it needs through appropriate dietary supplements that contain a wide range of beneficial substances (vitamins, minerals, trace elements and many others). Food supplements are suitable for all age groups.

When choosing products, it's important that they are as natural as possible. Dietary supplements contain a guaranteed amount of selected active substances, and they can be used to support the immune system, digestion, blood circulation, the musculoskeletal system, cleansing the body, a healthy urinary tract and weight loss, and to combat stress and fatigue. Our portfolio of nutritional supplements made from healthy mushrooms and plants is designed for the whole family. We guarantee the clear origin of the ingredients and perform laboratory analyses on each batch to make sure that the product does not contain any harmful substances. Each supplement has a Certificate of health safety from the National Institute of Public Health in Prague.

Medical devices

Medical devices are a new group of products in our portfolio. This specific category may include a diverse range of products that fall into several categories. It includes products for internal and external use, various instruments and aids for patient examination, diagnosis or therapy (blood pressure meter, glucometer, pregnancy test, etc.). The group of medical devices used internally (orally), which includes our products, is intended primarily to alleviate or prevent diseases or other complaints.

Unlike food supplements, medical devices are approved and supervised by competent authorities (State Institute for Drug Control), which deal with the assessment and registration of medication. To put it simply, this category of products is on the borderline between food supplements and OTC drugs.

SORE THROAT

free ANGIN spray

This 100% natural herbal spray contains a combination of sage, marigold, chamomile, peppermint and sea buckthorn oil, which have a beneficial effect on mucous membranes. The spray forms a protective oily film on the surface of the mucosa of the oral cavity and pharynx, which prevents the penetration of microorganisms into the body. It is suitable for a sore throat and colds, as well as for relieving irritated mucous membranes of the oral cavity and pharynx, after surgery and for irritated vocal cords.

Ingredients: vegetable oil, sea buckthorn oil, sage leaf extract, marigold flower extract, chamomile extract, peppermint leaf extract.

Instructions for use: The spray is intended for children from 2 years of age. Children under 6 years of age must use the product under adult supervision. Apply 2-3 pump sprays into the throat 3x a day until symptoms subside. It is recommended to not eat or drink for at least 30 minutes after use. The spray should be used by one person. If symptoms persist after a week of use, seek medical attention.

Method of use: Before use, shake the bottle with a rotating nozzle. Turn the nozzle 90 degrees counterclockwise. Spray the oral cavity and throat by pressing the rotary applicator two or three times.

Warning: Do not use if you are allergic or hypersensitive to any of the ingredients in this product. In case of contact with eyes, rinse eyes quickly and thoroughly with clean water. In the case of more extensive issues, seek medical help.

DRY AND WET COUGH

ANTI COUGH Junior syrup

Herbal syrup for children 100% natural composition. It contains 5 herbal extracts (plantago, rose hip, 2 species of thymus and chamomile) to help relieve symptoms associated with a cold. Suitable for dry and wet cough. The syrup forms a protective layer on the surface of the mucous membranes of the oral cavity and pharynx, thus relieving coughing and scratching in the throat. flavor is also popular among children Thanks to the apple concentrate and lemon juice, the syrup has an excellent taste, which even the most demanding child will love.

Ingredients: Apple fruit concentrate, dark agave syrup, aqueous extract of lanceolate plantain (Plantago lanceolata), natural apple aroma, rose hip (Rosa canina) fruit extract, narrow-leaved thyme aqueous extract (Thymus serpyllum), aqueous extract of chamomile (Chamomilla recutita), aqueous extract of common thyme (Thymus vulgaris), lemon juice concentrate.

Recommended dosage: Children older than 1 year: 5 ml (1 tea-spoonful) 3 times a day. Adults and children older than 6 years: 15 ml (1 spoonful) 3 times a day. For better effect, it is recommended to gargle the syrup briefly in the prescribed dose; this will allow the syrup to adhere to the mucosa and help the affected areas more effectively (pharynx, soft palate, tonsils). If symptoms persist after a week of use, seek medical attention.

Warning: Do not use if you are allergic or hypersensitive to any of the ingredients in this product. Do not exceed the daily dosage. Sedimentation does not affect the product's quality. No preservatives, sugar, sweeteners or food coloring.

Vitamins, minerals and others

Vitamins and minerals are very important for the proper functioning of our body. They are contained in different foods in various amounts. Sometimes our diet is not very varied and we may not get the amount of these substances our body needs from food.

Our bodies cannot make vitamins, with some exceptions. Vitamins have a number of irreplaceable roles in our bodies. They are involved in nutrient metabolism and play an important role in the overall health of our body. We distinguish between fat-soluble vitamins (A, D, E, K) and water-soluble vitamins (B vitamins, C).

Minerals, which are mostly of inorganic origin, are equally important. Mineral substances cannot be created by the human body, so it is necessary to replenish them regularly. Minerals form about 3% of our weight. They are involved in various hormone and metabolism processes. One way to give your body enough vitamins and minerals is through suitable food supplements.

Food supplements for children

Children are our future and their health is the greatest treasure, which we guard carefully. This is why we pay increased attention to things that affect their health. Children's bodies go through various stages during their development, and each stage requires certain substances important for them at the given stage to a greater or lesser extent. When the principles of good nutrition are followed, children get everything they need from their food. However, their diet can be supplemented with vitamins and other substances, e.g. to support immunity and overall vitality, especially during periods when they are exposed to various adverse influences, such as the weather, etc.

Parents choose their children's healthcare products conscientiously to ensure they are as safe as possible. All our food supplements, even those designed for children, have a Food Safety Certificate issued by the National Institute of Public Health. In addition, products intended for children from birth and under 3 years of age are reviewed of the Working Group for Pediatric Gastroenterology and Nutrition of the Czech Pediatric Society. We make sure that our products don't contain anything that could negatively affect children's health.

Cosmetics

Human skin (cutis in Latin and derma in Greek) is an independent organ that is also the body's largest organ measuring approximately 1.6 to 1.8 m². It covers our entire body and is a kind of barrier that separates the internal environment of the body from the external environment. The skin's primary function is to protect the body against the entry of harmful substances into our body (as well as harmful UV radiation), and its thermoregulatory function is very important. Our skin is often a reflection of our overall health and changes taking place inside our body. We should take care of our skin regularly, keeping its basic functions in balance and protecting it from the effects of the external environment. It is also important to provide the skin with optimum hydration and to avoid overheating or overdrying it.
